representatives to meet with it for a discussion of the matter, but for the present there had been insufficient response to warrant the committee's formulating a definite recommendation.

After discussion, it was decided that the committee explore the problem further and report at a subsequent meeting.

The afternoon session was adjourned at 7 P.M.

The session resumed at 8:30 P.M. under the chairmanship of Dr. Joachim Prinz, Chairman of the Administrative Committee.

ISRAEL

Dr. David Petegorsky described the intensive activity undertaken by Congress, its chapters, divisions and branches throughout the country prior to and since the establishment of the State of Israel. He stated that when developments indicated Britain's role in arming and giving support to Arab States, Dr. Wise on behalf of Congress sent telegrams to President Truman and Secretary Marshall, calling for a stoppage of financial aid to Britain, and that all Congress chapters were requested to take similar action. The National Office filed a protest with the State Department, urging immediate action to bring about the release of the 41 Jews seized by the Lebanese government.

The question was raised by Mr. Quatt as to whether, in accordance with the resolution of the Congress Convention, a Palestine Commission had been formed. Dr. Petegorsky replied that five members of the Commission have been appointed, namely, Prof. Oscar Janowsky, Rabbi Roland Gittelsohn, Rabbi Ira Eisenstein, Rabbi Theodore Lewis, Mrs. Anna C. Schneiderman, but that, in view of the swift developments in Israel requiring day-by-day action, there has not been time fully to constitute or define the function of the Palestine Commission.

It was urged that the Palestine Commission be immediately set up and authorized to carry out the mandate of the Convention.

It was moved that the Palestine Commission undertake to call in the name of the Congress a conference to formulate a program in aid of the State of Israel. A substitute motion was adopted authorizing the officers of the Congress to explore the feasibility of calling a national conference on Palestine, under the auspices of the Congress.

A considerable discussion followed in which a number of the members expressed the view that the Congress should sponsor the movement for a boycott of British goods and services. It was the sense of the meeting, however, while favoring the idea of such a boycott, the officers of the Congress be empowered to consult with responsible representatives of the State of Israel, in order to ascertain whether the launching of the boycott would be in the best interest of the people of Israel.

WORLD JEWISH CONGRESS

In view of the lateness of the hour, it was decided that an effort be made to convene a special meeting for the specific purpose of discussing the second session of the World Jewish Congress, which will open June 27th, at Montreux, Switzerland. Dr. Petegorsky announced that delegates representing the Jewish communities of more than sixty countries throughout the world will participate in the Session and that about 40 delegates have been accredited by the AJC and its affiliated organizations.

The meeting was adjourned at 11 P.M.

CRIME, CHILDREN AND COMMUNISM

select the books and reading matter for our children, with the same care that we use in buying food for the table. We would not buy anything poisonous that would harm us; neither should we buy, nor let our children buy, reading matter that might poison them spiritually. The same applies to movies, television and radio programs, stage shows, and entertainment of all kinds.

MEMORABILIA

No. 1

"Experts on Russian Affairs"

In every kind of war, be it "hot" or "cold", one of the first prerequisites is to have a clear and undistorted picture of one's enemy, because false or biased informations are liable to lead to wrong decisions, and wrong decisions bring with wrong actions which may end in a complete disaster. . . .

Nothing illustrates this better than the fate of Hitler whose actions during the war with USSR were mostly inspired by the Russia-hater Rosenberg who helped Hitler to lose the war which, actually, was already won by Germany.

As usual, history repeats itself, and hundreds of the new Rosenbergs most assiduously try in our days to influence the public opinion in USA and elsewhere, and to create a dense smoke screen which hides the real facts. Practically every day, when an average American opens his newspaper or magazine, he gets a fresh dose of falsehoods concocted by the so-called "Experts on Russian Affairs".

One of the most typical cases was the publication some time ago by the well-known "Reader's Digest" of the abbreviated version of Mr. Steinberg's book "Like Tsar, Like Commissar". It is impossible to repudiate the nonsense which Mr. Steinberg amassed there, because it would take then about the same number of pages as Mr. Steinberg has written, but it suffices to say that, first and foremost, the Russian Emperor was a Christian Leader of a Christian Nation the interests of which, and that of the Christianity in general, he strived to defend; and the Red Commissar is an International Atheist, more often Jewish than not, (before Beria's debacle, anyhow), whose interests are concentrated on the destruction of the Christian Western Civilization and on the spreading of his Communistic doctrine all over the world. This alone should preclude any attempt to put a sign of equation between the Tsar and the Commissar, and Mr. Steinberg, being a Russian Jew, knows this well enough.

It is extremely significant, that in our critical times so full of fears and apprehensions the title of the "Best Experts on Russian Affairs" who greatly influence the American public opinion and push it in the desired direction is, practically, monopolized by the Jews, such as: Deutscher, Shapiro, the above-mentioned Steinberg, Sokolsky, Jacobsen, Borkenau, and a legion of smaller fry. The last-named, and ex-Communist, has, by the way, a countenance strikingly resembling that of the "Marxist Invisible Government" as designed by the "Common Sense" artist — see "Newsweek", May 9th, 1955.

It is so difficult to guess in whose interests this group of "Experts" works and what is their final aim?

The fate of humanity hangs upon understanding which should be established between the two basically Christian Nations — American and Russian — which BOTH hate Communism, — but beware, American people, of the so-called Jew middlemen selling you Russian wares!

THE PENALTY

"THE PENALTY GOOD MEN PAY FOR INDIFFERENCE TO PUBLIC AFFAIRS IS TO BE RULED BY EVIL MEN."

—PLATO

Letter To The Editor:

Article II Section 4 of the Constitution of the United States says: "The President, Vice President, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and MISDEMEANORS."

Vol. 65 page 58 Illinois Supreme Court Reports — James Walsh vs. The People of Illinois defines MISDEMEANORS:

"Misdemeanor defined: Misdemeanors comprise all offenses lower than felonies which may be subject to indictment. They are of two classes, such as are mala in se, or punishable at common law, and such as are mala prohibita, or penal by statute.

"Misdemeanors at common law. Whatever, under the first class, mischievously affects the person or property of another, or openly outrages decency, or disturbs public order, or is injurious to the public, or is a breach of official duty, when done corruptly, is the subject of indictment."

We know that those in high places in the Federal government who tied the hands of our commanders and fighting men in Korea did so in order to give aid and comfort to the enemy. Under the above definition they are certainly guilty of causing the death of hundreds of men in the Armed forces which outrages decency, is injurious to the public and was a breach of official duty by those who were sworn to "preserve, defend and guard" the Constitution of the United States and to protect this country against "all enemies foreign and domestic." Many Americans were in favor of the Nuremberg Trials which punished Nazi leaders. Why aren't those same people demanding similar punishment for those who are responsible for the murder of hundreds of American boys in Korea.

Operation Parenthood

Parenthood doesn't mean simply having children. That's just the beginning. The full treatment takes a lifetime. And worth every bit of it.

Now that both Mother's Day and Father's Day are such firmly established fixtures on the American scene, it might be well also to have each year, with fitting ceremony and attendant publicity, a solemn observance of Children's Day. Even to the modern mind, kids are lovable rascals. Let's honor them as the hope of the future and for one day stop talking about juvenile delinquency.

Quite seriously, we must never forget the children. God doesn't forget them and He wants us to be mindful of them, too. So concerned is He about this that by means of the Fourth Commandment He clearly points out the many duties of parents towards their children.

These duties of fathers and mothers toward their offspring may be summarily stated by saying that parents should love their children in a truly Christian manner. This means that they should recognize in their young ones a sacred charge and be prompted to seek earnestly after their entire spiritual and bodily welfare.

A PRIMARY END OF MARRIAGE

The care, training and education of the children make up one of the primary ends of marriage. To shirk this grave duty is to commit serious sin. To fulfill it means years of hard work. Make no mistake about it, this business of being a parent is a big job that requires prolonged effort, patience and perseverance. In these times particularly, fathers and mothers must be more than ordinarily painstaking in order to discharge properly their parental obligations. How are they to go about it?

To give their young a thorough moral and religious training, they must begin in the home by word and example when the children are yet at a tender age.

As a matter of fact, the quite tremendous power for good wielded by parents cannot be overestimated. The lion's share of publicity may go to mothers who make a success of business or public life, but genuine success can be attained by women only in the bosom of their families. For that is where their real job is, and that is where their greatest charm is exercised. Every home is a little kingdom and every mother a queen there where she rules over God's wondrous gifts.
